Remember ANZGOG in your will

AUSTRALIA NEW ZEALAND
GYNAECOLOGICAL ONCOLOGY GROUP

Making a bequest to the ANZ Gynaecological Oncology Group will assist us to run clinical research trials that ensure women in Australia and New Zealand have access to the best treatments available.

Your support will help us to improve the outcomes for women with gynaecological cancers now and in the future.

The difference you make!

We are still not as advanced in understanding, treating and preventing gynaecological cancer as we are with other types of cancers.

Clinical trials are the most reliable method of determining the best treatments for these cancers.

Medical research has already made a profound difference to our lives. For example, over the past 20 years we have seen the survival rate of many common cancers increase by up to 30%.

A gift to ANZGOG allows our researchers to continue contributing to knowledge which will ultimately lead to earlier diagnosis, better disease management, new therapies and prevention or cure.

We depend on your generosity to help us make a difference in women's lives.
